

PINE RIDGE GOLF COURSE

Pine Ridge, where Nancy Lopez won her second professional tournament, is also the past home of several PGA and LPGA Tournaments: The Eastern Open, Lady Carling Open and the Greater Baltimore Golf Classic. Opened in 1958, the scenic water and pine trees of the Loch Raven watershed setting make this course both beautiful and a challenge.

The 18-hole "Pine Ridge" course at the Pine Ridge Golf Course facility in Lutherville, Maryland features 6,724 yards of golf from the longest tees for a par of 72. The course rating is 71.9 and it has a slope rating of 123 on Rye grass. Designed by Gus Hook, the Pine Ridge golf course opened in 1959.
